R.C. Defense To Be Tested On Oct. 27

As part of a state checkup on 40 California cities and towns, Redwood City's civilian defense organization will be put through its paces Oct. 27 by a group of graduates of the War Department's civilian protection school at Stanford University.

Starting at 7 p.m. a series of "incidents" planned by the state group will be conducted with official watchers observing all parts of the demonstration.

At 8:30 p.m. a meeting of state workers, city civilian defense corps members and the general public will be held for a discussion of findings. Following this session there will be a private conference in the control center for civilian defense workers only.

Other Peninsula cities to be tested are Palo Alto, Oct. 14; San Carlos, Oct. 26, and Menlo Park, Oct. 28.

S.C. School Dedicated

SAN CARLOS—Grayson Kefauver, dean of the Stanford School of Education, was principal speaker at an informal program dedicating the new San Carlos Primary School building this week. He was introduced by School Supt. Clark Robinson.

Miss Pansy J. Abbott, county school superintendent, and Birge Clark, architect for the addition, also spoke briefly.

A. L. Mewhirter, president of the San Carlos Elementary School board of trustees, presided over the dedicatory portion of last night's program. He was assisted by T. F. Miller and Oliver Q. Seely, other members of the board.

Robinson introduced Mrs. Harland B. Lane, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, who in turn introduced committee chairman for the year. This year's teachers also were introduced by Robinson.

Following inspection of the new building and library room refreshments, were served by Stewart Barber, hospitality chairman, and her assistant, Mrs. Lawrence Desmond.

S.F. Police Apprehend Ralph Lovell

Ralph Lovell, 20, who ran away from a deputy sheriff at the door of the San Mateo County jail Friday night, was captured by San Francisco police Sunday as he boarded a boat in San Francisco, according to Sheriff James J. McGrath.

Lovell, the sheriff's office announced, attempted to reclaim his clothes from the ship on which he returned to San Francisco from Australia a week ago. San Francisco police were waiting for him.

The youth told officers that after he escaped from the deputy sheriff he went to his home in Redwood City, spent 20 minutes there, then boarded a bus for San Francisco where he stayed in a hotel.

According to Joseph Toner of Atherton, state parole official, the youth had been paroled June 1 from Preston on his agreement to join the state guard. Instead he shipped out to Australia and back, and was picked up Sept. 24 as a parole violator. Toner was arranging for Lovell's induction into the army when he escaped.

Draft officials said they would talk to the sheriff before taking further action in Lovell's case.

Redwood City Appointed A New City Manager -- But He Resigned Today

Uutil 11:30 a.m. Tuesday Redwood City was congratulating itself upon the appointment of Charles R. Schwanenberg, the "clean-up" city manager of Alameda, as the successor to City Manager C. L. Dimmitt who died in July.

Schwanenberg's appointment, following a eulogy by Councilman Harold F. Anderson, was made by unanimous action of the city council Monday. The Alameda official's appointment was to take effect upon his resignation from his present position, and he was to start work in Redwood City in about three weeks.

SPECIAL MESSENGER

At 11:30 a.m. a special messenger delivered an envelope to Mayor Floyd D. Granger. The letter announced that Schwanenberg had changed his mind and would stay in Alameda. It read:

Sept. 29, 1942.

"The council of the City of Alameda held a meeting at 8:30 o'clock this morning and refused to accept my resignation.

"The members of the council stressed the point that because of my association with the many federal agencies in this community, it would be practically impossible to secure the services of a manager who could continue these contacts.

"They have given me a very substantial increase in salary and whatever assistance I may require to relieve the pressure of the work connected with the position.

"I realize that this decision is putting you in an awkward position for which I am sincerely sorry.

"I am basing my decision entirely upon the belief that I shall be able to do more for the war effort by remaining here than I could do in Redwood City.

"I wish to express my appreciation of your consideration.

"Respectfully submitted,
"Charles R. Schwanenberg, City Manager."

MAYOR DISAPPOINTED

Mayor Granger, obviously disappointed by Schwanenberg's action, said the council would continue its search for a city manager among the 29 other applicants.

"Schwanenberg assured us he would accept the position if it were offered to him," Granger said. "We met every condition he requested."

Schwanenberg was named city manager of Alameda in 1936 after several city officials were indicted in a city scandal, and he became known as the city's "clean up" manager.

Speaking of Schwanenberg at the council meeting Monday night, Anderson said:

"Since the death of Mr. (Charles L.) Dimmitt, the council has given a great deal of time to the problem of selecting a successor. We have interviewed many applicants, some of whom were rejected because they were subject to the draft and others because they had reached an age at which they could not give the number of years of service which the city desires.

UNANIMOUS CHOICE

"We have weighed not only ability, but personality. We have now agreed unanimously, and we think we have picked the best man in the field."

Councilman Carl Britschgi seconded Anderson's motion.

"We talked to Earl Warren," Britschgi said. "He told us he hoped we would not get Schwanenberg because they can't afford to lose him in Alameda. Warren recommended Schwanenberg as a man of complete honesty. We talked to Richard Graves, executive secretary of the League of California Cities, who said Schwanenberg is one of the two best city managers in the state. We have really picked a man."

These Army Marriages Sure Are Contagious

LONG BEACH —Staff Sgt. John W. Westervelt, 73 years old and reputed to be the oldest enlisted man in the army, got a 24-hour leave—and what did he do? Married Mrs. Leota Harrison, 54, whom he met 10 years ago when stationed at Camp Custer, Mich.

Hasbrouck Dies In Belmont

BELMONT — Alpheus Thomas Hasbrouck, 59, Belmont city treasurer, died suddenly at his home Monday night, apparently from a heart attack. eH was found on a couch in his residence at 6:30 p.m. by his landlady, Miss Minnie eLonard, who called Dr. Joel H. Hanson of San Carlos. Dr. Hanson found that Mr. Hasbrouck had been dead about three hours.

Mr. Hasbrouck was serving his third term as city treasurer, having been re-elected to office in April. He was secretary of the Belmont County Fire District, the Belmont Volunteer Firemen's Association, and the San Carlos Lion's Club.

He came to Belmont 16 years ago from Alameda County, where he served as deputy county clerk and deputy county auditor. He was once employed by the Moore Shipbuilding & Drydock Co.

He was a bachelor and the only known relative is an uncle, Louis Hasbrouck of Chicago. The deceased was a native of Effingham, Ill.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon from the Layng & Tinney Funeral Home in Redwood City.

Kruttschnitt Estate Valued at $51,771.71

Mrs. Julius Kruttschnitt of Hillsborough who died Dec. 18 left an estate valued at $51,771.71 according to an appraisal filed in superior court at Redwood City. She was the widow of Julius Kruttschnitt, former board chairman for Southern Pacific. About half of the estate was in cash. San Mateo real estate owned by Mrs. Kruttchnitt was appraised at $16,500.

Recreation Commission Urges Purchase of Slide

Redwood City Parks and Recreation Commission this week recommended that a slide and swing fittings be purchased for the California Square (Native Daughters) play area.

The commission previously had tried to persuade the city council to move the old manual arts building on Jefferson Ave. (where the Red Cross Canteen is now located) to California Square and establish a Recreation Center there, but the plan was thwarted.

The group also recommended that money be expended from the yacht harbor budget to patch the roof and weatherstrip the windows at the yacht harbor clubhouse.

Alfred (Red) Morton, recreational director, reported that the play areas were in good condition except for a few minor details. Tanbark has been hauled to three of the areas to prevent the growth of weeds. It was decided to purchase two 5½ by 9-foot flags to be displayed at play areas.

The commission discussed the care of children of working parents but no definite plans were made.

Buy Bonds—Help Lick Inflation

Wars always create a number of hellish by-products.

For example, the first World War somehow produced the influenza epidemic which killed more people in America than the war itself.

In most wars, money goes crazy and produces its own kind of ruin. Remember what happened to German money after the last war?

The United States of America are threatened right now with inflation—crazy money—which may be as bad as war itself.

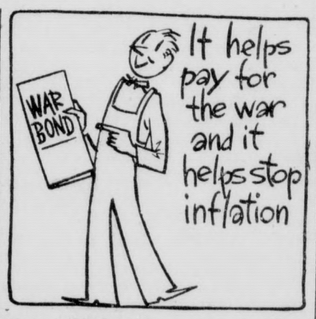
Inflation means simply that a 100 cent dollar may buy only, say, 60 cents worth or maybe 20 cents worth of groceries, or clothes or other necessities.

This happens when billions of borrowed money are being spilled into everybody's pockets, and when nearly everything that is being produced is for war use—not for home use.

There is a lot of extra money to bid for living necessities and these living necessities are very scarce.

Thus it might be possible for bread to become $1 a loaf here—if nothing were done to stop it.

Laws can do much to stop inflation.



but laws may be slow to come.

In the meantime, there are two things that each of us can do to help beat inflation:

1. Buy only what we absolutely need. This cuts down competitive bidding for scarce commodities.

2. Put money into war bonds. This takes money out of circulation and puts it on the shelf for post-war days when it will be worth more.

War Description Spurs Production

Workers and their families attending a recent Johns-Manville War Production Rally listened to a talk by Lawrence Impey, war correspondent of the London Daily Mail who recently returned from the Far East. He told of the real horrors of war faced by Americans if we do not produce enough materials to win.

"When the Japanese took Nanking," he said, "the children couldn't run as fast as the grown-ups. So the Japanese soldiers caught up to them first. As I walked through the streets next day—there they lay, hundreds of them, little kids of four and five and six—bayonetted in the back.

"Right now we cannot think that such horrible death could pursue little children through the streets in America. But that is exactly what we can expect—if the Japanese ever get a foothold in this country."

J-M men and women who heard the talk had no doubts about the kind of war America is in and the kind of enemy we face. And it brought new determination to turn out more and more production so that it will not happen here.

J-M FAMILY ALBUM

HE FIGHTS WITH WORK AND MONEY—Henry Miller, of the Magnesia Department at J-M's Waukegan, Ill., plant, hasn't missed but one day's work in the last nine years. On that day he had to go to a funeral. Henry is not only working every day to boost production but he's also putting 10% of his wages into War Bonds to help buy the planes, ships, tanks and guns needed for victory. He knows that, in these days, every minute and every dollar counts.

Salvaged Parts Put to Work

J-M's Research Laboratories needed a new mold to work with Celite. But one couldn't be bought because the materials were required for the production of war goods.

So the scrap pile was raided and the mold was made from salvaged parts. Old materials were put to work again and new ones were saved for war uses.

Drainage Contract Awarded To San Mateo Contractor

After re-advertising for bids on the Broadway - Perry St. - James Ave. drainage project, Redwood City today had awarded the contract to a San Mateo contractor over strong objections of W. O. Tyson, Redwood City bidder, who was low when the bids were first opened Sept. 15.

Tyson bid $3525 on both occasions. L. C. Smith of San Mateo bid $4282.80 at the first call, but cut his bid $123 below Tyson's on the second. Only other bidder was Peter Sorenson of Redwood City, whose first figure was $4740.80, his second $4278.

Appearing before the council Monday night, Tyson charged that his first bid should have been accepted. All bids were rejected, councilmen explained, because Tyson's bid was not accompanied by a certified check, although City Atty. Paul McCarthy ruled the bid acceptable.

Tyson complained that the disclosure of his bid figures made it possible for the other contractor to underbid him.

Councilman George W. McNulty pointed out that the city had paid about $60 to re-advertise the contract, had saved only $63 and had given the contract to an "outsider."

In other transactions the city council:

Notified the U.S. Treasury that city employes are now appropriating about 5 per cent of the city payroll to war stamps, and about 90 per cent of city employes had signed up for the war stamp purchase plan.

Granted Sequoia Thimble Club a permit for a bazaar Nov. 5 and 6 at 2417 Broadway.

Voted $100 to the Redwood City Vital War Transportation Committee for incidental expenses to June 30, 1943.

Granted permission to the Lions Club to erect shelters for service men on both main highways. The application for permission to erect Bayshore Hwy. shelters will be made to the state in the name of the city.

$500 Doll Helps Boost Week's War Bond Sales

With a toy doll bringing an auction price of $500 and a wheelbarrow going for $250 Redwood City had its second largest sale of war bonds and stamps last week when $39,220 was collected.

In making the announcement Tuesday Postmaster Robert E. O'Connell said $13,775 of the total came from a bond and stamp auction conducted by the 20-30 Club and the Fox West Coast Theaters at the Sequoia Theater Saturday.

Hal Honore', theater manager, explained that auction articles were collected from Redwood City merchants by 20-30 Club members under the direction of Al Pushkin.

During the auction Swen Engdahl made the top bid for the doll although Mr. and Mrs William Mudersbach, who recently closed their automobile firm, actually purchased the largest number of bonds, $10,000 worth.

In conjunction with the auction the army furnished three jeeps in which children who purchased stamps were given a free ride.

The Mudersbachs arrived to make their purchase in a Model T. Ford escorted by Chief of Police C. L. Collins.

Only week during which more federal securities were sold was the week of Aug. 15 when $41,820 were sold, O'Connell said.

The total last week brings to $1,212,955 the amount purchased since Dec. 7 in Redwood City.

Peacetime Jobs for War-Working Millions

Written for Wide World Features
By PAUL V. McNUTT
Federal Security Administrator

Thought is being given in many quarters to the design of the peace which we would like and the character of international organization necessary to maintain it. There will, however, be equally as pressing domestic problems. Some of the dilemmas of the depression will recur and new problems will appear.

First, and most pressing, will be the difficult decisions which must be made for the orderly demobilization of the vast pool of manpower which is being concentrated for war effort. If the war should fortunately end early in 1943, there would even then be some 22 million people occupied in the armed forces or war production. Readjustment on such a scale will tax our ingenuity and our resources.

Industry should be ready to reconvert to needed products, and many industries are now devoting research to the type of goods which they can best market. Men should be prepared to shift back from swords to plowshares, and this may well involve as much relocation and retraining as was involved in adjustment to war.

Our goal should be full employment, maintained as far as possible in private industry, but with a substantial number in public employment if opportunity is not otherwise available. The agencies of the federal government are now engaged in the study of the kind of public works and service program which can be put into action if necessary. Without full employment there will not be full purchasing power, and if industry has no confidence that purchasing power will be maintained, private capital will not flow freely enough into the production of peace-time products. The period of demobilization will offer a challenge to business and government to work together in an atmosphere of practical idealism.

It is too early to predict all of the devices which the nation will have to adopt to approximate full employment, but some needs are apparent.

We should be prepared to maintain the full scope of usefullness of the Employment Service. The replacement and guidance of men into peaceful occupations will require as accurate knowledge of the trends in the labor market as was required for placement in war industry.

Unemployment compensation as the first line of defense against loss of income should be kept 100 percent liquid by preparation to buttress the state reserves against any great stresses.

A broad rehabilitation program should be started now for repair of the war casualties.

Educational opportunity should be afforded to those men who interrupted their education to enter the war effort.

Plans for public employment should include the expansion of those services which contribute to a higher standard of living, particularly education, health, recreation, and nutrition.

Harry Gibbs To Face Battery Complaint

Harry Gibbs, 31, bartender jailed after an altercation at Sequoia Hotel which sent Andrew J. Blain, 36, to Community Hospital Monday night, will face a battery complaint, it was announced today by Dep. Dist. Atty. Louis B. Dematteis. The complaint will be signed by S. E. Douglass, Redwood City police sergeant.

Menlo Park Council Moves To Aid National War Effort

The Menlo Park City Council made two moves this week toward aiding the national war effort. On the suggestion of Holbrook Bonney, Menlo Park teacher, it moved to turn over the two cannon in the Santa Cruz avenue park to the salvage committee, as well as several bronze trench mortars now kept in the police vault.

"But suppose we do notify the committee it can have the guns," said Mayor Charles Oram. "How is it going to move them?"

Joseph Willis, editor of the Menlo Park Gazette, suggested that the Pacific Gas & Electric company will do such tasks. The council referred the matter to Mrs. Gardner Calio, head of the Menlo Park salvage committee.

The second defense move was the suggestion by Councilman William Bryant that a city fund of $8000 in street improvement bond accounts be turned into war bonds.

It was agreed that this money will not be used before the end of the war in any case, since the fund is tagged for street improvement, so it would be reasonable to invest it in war bonds. Decision to do this will wait until next meeting when City Attorney J. T. O'Keefe Jr. will give an opinion on the legality of such a move.

Recreational Commissioner Bryant, reported that the northwest corner of the recreational park on Middle avenue may be considered available for a scout house, and the scout committee may go ahead with its plans.

The council again doubted its responsibility for supporting the Menlo Park recreation center on Oak Grove avenue, upon receiving a letter from the board of trustees of the elementary school district saying that the project was not educational and not the responsibility of the school district either.

Councilman Burgess said that the Palo Alto school system supported similar classes in pottery and art and asked why shouldn't the Menlo Park school system do so as well.

"They've got a lot more money than we have," he said, referring to the school district.

The city clerk was instructed to notify the board of trustees of the councils' opinion.

Councilman Burgess reported that Atherton had withdrawn from the Southeast San Mateo defense council, and that a new council was in the process of being formed including Menlo Park and the unincorporated area south of Atherton. The council will have two representatives from Menlo Park, two from the unincorporated area and one from the fire commission. Mrs. George Cleese and Donald Fisher were chosen to represent Menlo Park.

Perruccios To Live In Pescadero

PESCADERO — Mr. and Mrs. Frank Perruccio (Lola Maire Frizza) will establish a home in Pescadero when they return from their honeymoon trip.

Miss Frizza, daughter of the Adolfo Frizzas of Santa Cruz, became the bride of the Pescaderan at a justice ceremony conducted Saturday morning in the chambers of Judge W.. A. Deans and followed by a breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Little.

The bride wore a dusty rose afternoon frock with black accessories and a gardenia corsage for the civil rites, at which the Littles acted as only attendants.

Mr. Perruccio is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perruccio of Pescadero. With his father and brother, Henry, he manages a large Coastside ranch.

KEEP HATS DUSTED

Felt hats should be kept free from dust always. A drop of water on a dusty surface will make a dirty spot that may sink into the felt and be difficult to remove later.

Notre Dame Enrolls Girls From Manila

BELMONT—The College and Convent of Notre Dame this year has the largest enrollment in its history, many of its students enrolling from distant points.

Marian Schoening, a junior in the high school department, is from Manila. Her parents, who had been on the mainland, sailed for Manila in November and their daughter has had no word from them since. It is presumed that the Schoenings are prisoners of war.

Grace and Jean Pope, also from the Philippines, are more fortunate, in that their mother, Mrs. Walter Pope, remained in the United States and is making her home in San Francisco. Mr. Pope, however, is still in the islands, and has not been heard from since the fall of Bataan.

Beverly Cote Shower Hostess

BELMONT—A linen and kitchen shower was given on Sunday by Beverly Cote of Escondido Way for her Phi Mu sorority sister, Ann Barratt Hall of Berkeley, at whose marriage to Wilfred Hodgkins of the East Bay Oct. 3 Miss Cote will be a bridesmaid.

Gathering for the party and the afternoon of bridge which followed the opening of gifts were Mrs. Robert Hall, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. Walter Davison, sorority housemother at the University of California; Shirley Williams of Atherton, Marzella Sather and Nancy Gallagher of San Francisco; Carol Jensen of San Leandro, Peggy Grisinger of Burlingame, Mary Jewett of Piedmont; Floramay Lackey, Catherine Grover, Lorraine Graham, Eloise Sebek, Maybelle Garing, Geneva Bartlett, Dorothy Guerin, Marjorie Schneider, Frances McPeak, Catherine Anderson and Marjorie Moore of Berkeley.

SUMMER LINGERIE

Summer lingerie should be dainty, cool, beautifully launderable. A Fifth Avenue shop features gowns, negligees, slips and such of fine batiste beautifully styled and fitted, appliqued with graceful flower sprays, and generously ruffled. You'll like sets in each of the three field flower colors as well as one in white.

Menlo Park Legion Auxiliary Plans USO House; Appeals for Aid

MENLO PARK — Menlo Park Unit 443, American Legion Auxiliary, is initiating plans for opening a USO House in Menlo Park and is appealing to other organizations or individuals for help and advice.

Information about the plans may be secured from Mrs. Carroll A. Devol, chairman of the committee (Palo Alto 8217).

The auxiliary sewing circle which meets Thursday evenings with Mrs. Devol completed 240 hours of work in September. Mrs. William Damoth is chairman.

The unit has marked Oct. 14 on its calendar as the date for a card party to be given at Mrs. Devol's home. Mrs. Martin Johnson is chairman of the committee on arrangements. Score cards will be 25 cents and the public will be welcome.

Money saved from refreshment committee collections is being put into a War Savings Bond, Mrs. J. Culver, retiring chairman of the committee, announces. Mrs. Martin is being succeeded by Mrs. Fred Paris and will take over the leadership of the ways and means committee.

Supervisors Will Adopt Gas Hoarding Ordinance

An ordinance designed to prevent gasoline hoarding in the unincorporated areas of San Mateo County was given first reading by the board of supervisors this week. Chairman Fred E. Beer said the ordinance would be adopted next Tuesday and would become immediately effective under emergency provisions.

It forbids all above-ground gasoline storage except under permit issued by the county fire warden, and empowers that official to enter any premises to make the necessary inspections. Violation would impose a maximum fine of $500 or imprisonment for six months in jail.

In other matters the county board:

Notified Agricultural District A-1 (the Cow Palace) that the county will hold it responsible for a drainage situation which threatens to flood a newly built-up home area in Bayshore.

Approved a five-year lease to the Department of Commerce Civil Aeronautics Authority for a radio beam at San Mateo Point.

Granted a permit to Litton Engineering Co. to erect a building on 10 acres of land on Eaton Ave. near Redwood City.

Compromised a $3000 engineering claim of C. A. Torello of Burlingame for work in the defunct El Granada Improvement District for $1000.

Fire Warden Files Blaze Complaint

County Fire Warden Bert L. Wedrer has lodged a complaint with the San Mateo Fire Department because of a salt marsh blaze near Bay Meadows race track which Friday afternoon sent a cloud of smoke over Bayshore Hwy., creating a hazardous traffic condition.

Werder declared that the Three Cities Mosquito Abatement District burned off area near the race track stables and left the fire at 5 p.m. without extinguishing it. It spread into the salt marsh along a dyke. County firemen were able to control the blaze only by backfiring. Two county trucks fought the fire while two state patrolmen directed highway traffic for two hours.

Werder said previous grass burning near the race track had obscured vision of several aircraft observation stations in the county.

The larvae of the Hessian fly attack the stems of wheat, barley and rye and are extremely destructive to wheat crops.

Youngest 1918 Veteran Will Enter World War II

Just exactly 25 years to the day since he enlisted for the last war the youngest man to serve in the American Expeditionary

ERNEST WRENTMORE

He is Ernest L. Wrentmore of Wrenoma Lodge, Graceland Ave.

A mere 12 years and 10 months of age during he last war, he ran away from his home at Auburn, O., and enlisted Sept. 28, 1917, at Gettysburg, Pa., giving his age as 18. Because he was then 145 pounds in weight, recruiting officers believed his story. He was sent to Camp Green, N. C., for training and subsequently went abroad with Company "I", 60th Infantry, and served for six months in the front lines.

Wounded twice, he was hospitalized during the Meuse-Argonne offensive as his outfit helped to form a bridgehead on the Meuse River which led to the final defeat of the Germans.

After receiving many military decorations both from the United States and European countries, Wrentmore reurned to the United States and in 1931 attempted to become an army pilot by taking a course at March Field, Riverside.

Failing that because of deficient lungs resulting from war gas, he came to Redwood City where he undertook selling vacuum cleaners along the Peninsula.

Ten days ago army officals, searching for commissioned officers with air base experience who can fill administrative posts, notified him he would be subject to call and must leave Monday for Miami Beach, Fla.

Married, he is the step-father of John Wrentmore, a junior at Sequoia Union High School.

War department officials, according to Mrs. Wrentmore, believe after sifting records that Wrentmore undoubtedly is the youngest soldier to have taken part in the last war.

There have been claims that some other men were younger during the last fighting, but the war department has failed to find record of them.

The 680 people of Block Island, 12 miles off the Rhode Island Coast, collected 35½ pounds of rubber scrap for every man, woman and child on the island.

Out of present silk and nylon yarns, hosiery makers expect only enough rayon to replace 60 per cent of the former output of these two commodities.

Civil Service Seeks 200 Electricians

Civil service authorities at the Redwood City post office said today that 200 electricians are needed at the Puget Sound Navy Yard, Bremerton, Wash., to do war work.

"There are two months' temporary work, or a permanent position if you wish," the announcement said. "The wages are $9.20 a day to start; overtime at the rate of time and one half after a 40-hour week."

Information may be obtained from the civil service secretary at the post office. The announcement emphasized that persons now doing war work of equal skill should not apply.
